1 3 6 12 17 . . It would be great to discover a universal killer. . choice and are less able to protect themselves from the effects of pollution. Something is going wrong with these scientists. At present, we cannot protect people, but our bodies are much more resistant to disease than we thought. It turns out that our bodies have the ability to heal themselves. Not only can they restore cells, but even cells that we have lost as a result of illness. Researchers have found that bacteria have the ability to repair and grow our cells when our body is injured. These bacteria can also help treat cancer.
